Paycheck Checkup

The IRS encourages everyone to use the Withholding Calculator to perform a quick “paycheck checkup.” This is even more important following the recent changes to the tax law for 2018 and beyond. The IRS has a withholding calculator. The Calculator will ask you to estimate values of your 2019 income, the number of children you will claim for the Child Tax Credit and Earned Income Tax Credit, and other items that will affect your 2019 taxes. This calculator can help you be sure that you aren’t having too much or too little tax withheld from your paychecks.

2019 Withholding Calculator		Your Personal Info (Use 2018 or 2019 info)		Employer Information

Insurance Checkup

Here’s a little secret millionaires know . It’s not just about growing your money. It’s about protecting it, too. Just as your yearly physical offers an overall assessment of your health, an insurance checkup takes a holistic look at your financial situation and the policies you have in place to protect it. Enter the insurance checkup—the ritual we should be adding to our calendars each year to ensure our property, income, and family are fully protected, no matter what happens. Your insurance checkup could result in big and small changes.

Life & Disability Insurance

Your most valuable asset isn’t your house, car or retirement account. It’s the ability to make a living.

Everyone is going to die, but not everyone is going to become disabled.

So, the first question you need to ask is how much insurance do you need? There is not a clear answer on this because it depends on your expectations. In insurance, desire is something that does not always align with reality. How much life or disability insurance you are going to get also depends on what you can afford in terms of premiums as well as how much insurance a company will sell you.

Life insurance and disability insurance policies cover vastly different things. A life insurance policy is generally purchased to financially protect dependents; Disability insurance refers to a plan that provides for periodic payments of benefits when a disabled insured person is unable to work.
